OVERCOMING OBSTACLES SPEAKER

INSPIRING PEOPLE TO BUILD THE LIFE OF THEIR DREAMS
AMIDST THE OBSTACLES THAT COME THEIR WAY

As a first generation Indian American raised in the south, Nesha has had her fair share of facing and overcoming obstacles - dealing with racism and sexism throughout her life. She has endured mental health struggles and a personal religious identity crisis all while navigating marriage, divorce, and single motherhood.

But she credits these challenges as the catalyst for her success. Nesha opened her accounting firm, Pai CPA, in 2011 and made it her mission to empower women through hiring. Due to its unique virtual office structure at the time, she was able to give remote employment opportunities to stay-at-home moms. She created a unique business model in her hometown, that was very new to the U.S. market and has grown it to a multiple 6-figure success.

Nesha's book "Overcoming Ordinary Obstacles", won the Multicultural Non-Fiction category at the 2020 competition of the American Book Fest.

As a speaker, Nesha inspires audiences to go boldly after the life of their dreams, in spite of the obstacles that come their way. Nesha has spoken at women-centered conferences, universities, as well as leadership and entrepreneurial communities. She debuted as an international speaker at the 2023 Karren Brady's Women in Tech & Business Expo in London.
